

STEVEN M. BUSH, ESQUIRE

Attorney Steven Bush has always had a leaning toward entrepreneurship. However, it was while working as a Certified Indoor Environmentalist in New Orleans during the Hurricane Katrina Recovery Effort that he became aware of the tactics used by the insurance companies to avoid paying policyholders what they were due. During this time, he also became aware of how little policyholders knew about their rights under the terms of the insurance policy.

In the early 2000's he obtained his license as a Public Insurance Adjuster in Florida. While working with both homeowners and business owners, Attorney Steven Bush gained experience handling losses of every size. After years of defending policyholders as a public adjuster, Steven earned a law degree at Florida Coastal School of Law.

Upon his graduation and acceptance into the Florida Bar Association in April of 2016, Steven assembled a team of attorneys - each with a distinctive set of strengths and experience - to create The Bush Law Group. Steven is also licensed to practice with the Washington, D.C. Bar Association.
